

Stove Guard

For Peace Of Mind

“Smart Stove” technology monitors the kitchen cooking area.
Power to the stove is shut off when Unattended Cooking is detected.

Designed for use & monitoring of persons with early-stage Alzheimer’s, PTSD, or other cognitive disorders.

Occupational Therapists and Home Care Workers across North America who work with Alzheimer’s sufferers and other forgetful people praise Stove Guard’s effectiveness. Stove Guard is the solution they use to help their “Aging at Home” clients live independently. It allows people, who otherwise might have to be institutionalized, remain in their own homes safely longer.

Seniors housing managers use Stove Guard to provide an extra level of security & safety for their residents.

Fire marshals have tested Stove Guard and endorse its use as an effective fire prevention tool.

Simple to use, Stove Guard is factory-set to turn off the stove one minute after last sensing motion in the kitchen cooking area. The shutdown time is adjustable to best suit the user’s needs.

Installation is an easy retrofit for most homes, using existing 4-prong "plug-in" connections. Models are available for use with electric stoves or electric cook tops. Stove Guard is patented and certified for use in USA and Canada.

Easy to Install

- 1) Turn off power & move the stove out. “Plug-in” the Power Control Box between the stove plug & the existing wall outlet.
- 2) Mount the Sensor/Control unit to an upper cabinet or on the wall nearby & connect the control cord.
